The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Some people have a mania for signing petitions. Pasadena has its fair proportion of these cranks. The latest manifestation of their idiosyncrasy is an appeal to the Council to establish a telephone system to be owned and operated by the city. As the scheme is as impracticable as it is undesirable, it will be interesting to see how many signatures are obtained to the petition.

Science has come to the aid of beet-sugar makers in Southern California and elsewhere by finding a way whereby the molasses of beet sugar can be made profitable. From this molasses it is practicable to manufacture alcohol. In times past the residuum of beet-sugar factories has been thrown away or used as fertilizer. The conversion of this residuum into alcohol ought to add much value to the beet industry.

Santa Barbara is all torn up about a goat. Somebody said a goat was used in a court of Foresters, and then somebody else rushed into print to assure the public that new members of another court were not compelled to ride goats, whereupon another somebody repudiated the goat business for both courts. The public thirst for knowledge on the goat question has been only aggravated by the controversy, and there appears to be only one way to satisfy it. The whole population of Santa Barbara must be initiated.

It is expected that the old bachelors of Santa Ana who help to pay the taxes will enter a vigorous protest against the proposition of the Board of Education of that city to supply the pupils of the public schools with text books from the fund that has been set apart for library purposes. If the board, instead of using the money from the tax levy for library purposes, could make a direct levy on the bachelors themselves for the whole amount necessary to supply the school books needed, it would, no doubt, be an accommodation to the heads of large families in that bailiwick.

For a month or more the users of water under the Riverside Water Company's system have been discussing rates for the coming irrigation season. Early in the discussion it was pointed out that there were elements of injustice in both the inch and the acreage rates, and a compromise on the basis of an acreage rate sufficient to pay interest on the debts of the company and an inch rate sufficient to pay operating expenses was suggested. After much discussion, the suggestion has been adopted, and the contending forces are harmonious. The town is to be congratulated on escaping what threatened to be an acrimonious contest.

GOES TO GOLDEN.

Young Wellborn Will Be Sent to Colorado.

J. H. Wellborn, the boy of 14 who was indicted by the United States grand jury for breaking open mail-boxes, will be sentenced today to pass the remainder of his minority in the Colorado State Reformatory at Golden. The United States District Attorney agreed with the counsel for young Wellborn that the reform school was the best place for him, and today Judge Wellborn will designate the reformatory.

HARMLESS AMUSEMENT.

Childs Will Be Examined as to His Sanity.

Officer Talamantes took into custody last evening on Bell street a young man named J. J. Childs, who is supposed to be insane. Childs was taken to the County Jail and will be summoned for examination as to his sanity today.

For some days Childs had a habit of gathering together odd bits of tin and old cans, which he would arrange in the street in neat little piles. Yesterday he had collected a quantity of rags and old paper and threw them over the fence into a neighboring yard. He spent the afternoon stopping passers-by and explaining to them that the pile of rubbish was food, which he was going to distribute among the men who are out of work.

Quick Work.

Charles Mansfield, who was caught in the act of breaking into the cigar stand in front of Germania Hall on North Main street yesterday morning, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon and was given 100 days or $100 by Justice Rossiter.

Levalley in Court.

L. L. Levalley, who was arrested last Tuesday night for firing four shots at T. Lawrence, a conductor of the Los Angeles Railway Company, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Rossiter. His case was set at 9:30 o'clock a.m., February 15.

In Trouble Again.

The notorious negro, Agony Smith, who once served two years at Folsom for assault with a deadly weapon, was arrested last night by Officer Davis in a resort near the Plaza for disturbing the peace.

Disturbed the Peace.

Mollie Long was drunk and disorderly last night on Los Angeles street. She was arrested by Officer Williams and spent the night in the City Jail.

SOCIETY.

The luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Gilbert E. Overton, at her residence on Portland street, to meet Mrs. J. H. Johnson, was a charming affair. The table was decorated with pale pink stock, the clusters at each cover being tied with pale-blue ribbon. Besides the guest of honor there were present Mrs. Frank Burnett, C. C. Carpenter, W. B. Wilcox, J. C. Drake, Randolph Miner, G. Wiley Wells, Godfrey Holterhoff, Dwight Whiting, I. N. Van Nuy and J. P. Jones of Santa Monica.

Mrs. L. M. Seaton entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home on North Olive street. The table was decorated with a profusion of California violets, massed in a large bowl in the center strewn over the cloth and gathered in corsage bouquets at each cover. An amusing feature was the guessing of the ingredients of a salad, the guests being blindfolded during the contest. The first prize, a silver violet-holder, was won by Mrs. Nicholl, and the second, the drawing dollies, by Mrs. Taylor. The guests were Mrs. William Jones, H. M. Sale, Motley Fine, J. M. Taylor, Willard-Innesaker, S. K. Lindley and M. E. Shipman.

Mrs. Calvin Smith entertained a few friends yesterday at her home on Bacon street. A guessing contest was followed by a luncheon. Mrs. Smith was assisted by Mrs. C. R. Duin. The guests were: Warren L. Day, H. W. Morris, E. P. Clark, M. C. Smith, Howard, Anna S. Averill, D. G. Peck, J. B. Brown, H. W. Blackstone, D. A. Judd, C. Platt, L. W. Godin, C. Forrester, E. L. Keep, W. C. Brown, C. Fuller, H. W. Mills, of Covington, Ky., A. Hanna, Miss Hathaway.

R. H. Herron entertained his fellow-members of the Executive Committee of the late Home Products Exhibition at an elaborate dinner Tuesday evening at the California Club. Mrs. Herron surprised her husband and his guests by the beautiful decorations she had prepared. A large centerpiece was formed of jonquils, violets and maiden-hair ferns, while over the cloth were strewn quantities of violets. At each cover was a boutonniere of violets and a handsome souvenir in the shape of a medallion plaque, decorated in water-colors, with California poppies and violets, tied with a yellow ribbon, in which was fastened a silver souvenir engraved with the initials of each guest. Those present were: Messrs. R. W. Priddy, J. G. Chamberlain, E. A. Stuart, Fred L. Baker, C. D. Gray, J. V. Wachtel and F. J. Zeehandelaar.

Mrs. T. F. Fitzgerald entertained at progressive games yesterday afternoon at her home on Estrella avenue. The guests were all in "hard-time" costumes. Mrs. Pooler winning the prize for the "luckiest." The prize for the same was won by Miss Jessie Waspie, and that for the best story by Mrs. Duffin. Appropriate refreshments were served. Those present were: Mrs. Duffin, C. C. Worth, L. Arnold, Footitt, C. Pooler, J. Stitt, Quinton, Connelly of Fresno, the Misses Jessie Waspie and Bertha and Alice Walker.

Mrs. Albert Russell's musicale at the Clarendon last evening was an exceptionally enjoyable affair. Hundreds of callers, with garlands of English ivy, were used to decorate the parlors, hall and stairway, while in the super-room jonquils, maiden-hair ferns and broad yellow ribbons were effectively arranged upon the table. Mrs. Russell wore an elegant decollete Paris frock of cream-white broad satin, garnished with lace, white chiffon and violet satin ribbon. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Cohen presided at the table, the former in a decollete gown of white silk, garnished with point lace, and the latter in pale blue silk, garnished with pink velvet. The programme, which was delightfully rendered, and was nearly doubled by enthusiastic encores, was as follows: Piano duet, by Miss May Williams and Charles Ward; baritone solo, prologue and selection from "Pagliacci," A. H. Wagner; violin solo, "Concert Caprice" by Edwin H. Clark; soprano solo, "Happy Days," by Miss Delphine Todd, with violin obligato by Miss Dora James; piano solo, "Study in D Major," by Helenecke and Schubert Minuet," by C. W. Pyne, recently of Leipzig, and who made his first appearance last evening; dialect readings by Mrs. Desendorf; contralto solo, an old German love rhyme, by Mrs. Russell; baritone solo, "Oh, Fair and Sweet and Holy," by Mr. Wagner; vocal duet by Mrs. Russell and Mr. Wagner, a quartette by Miss Todd, Miss Adelaide Loring and Mrs. Russell, the first also being rendered by Miss Williams on the violin. Among those present were:

Mrs. J. R. Newberry, Carolyn Marshall of Pasadena, R. S. Crombie, H. L. Williams, E. W. Pratt, Mayo, B. Cochrane, D. W. Edwards, J. T. Fitzgerald, P. S. Huebner, W. D. Longyear, Albert Prensauer, of Michigan, George Boole, Jr., H. E. Eder, G. R. Crow, of Sierra Madre, C. E. Price, of Philadelphia, H. C. Hemenway, of Rochester, N. Y., J. A. B. Wilson, Whittemore of New York, John Mansfield, of San Francisco, W. T. Miller, L. J. Loring, Misses Taylor, Crow, Charlotte Miller, Laina, May Rhodes, of Philadelphia, Eva Ellsworth, Mayo, Delphine Todd, Dora James, Nellie Kershaw of Germantown, Stowe, Messrs—J. R. Newberry, F. S. Huebner, E. W. Pratt, A. Prensauer, E. W. Pratt, H. E. Eder, J. T. Fitzgerald, J. R. Tillinghurst, W. D. Longyear, David Lyman, George Boole, Jr., Charles Ashman of Philadelphia, F. D. Hall, D. W. Edwards, C. E. Price, Col. R. M. Baker of Monrovia, Lyman Farwell, Maj. Loring, U.S.A., L. C. Schiller, J. A. B. Wilson, Henry Williams, Judge J. B. Cochrane, A. H. Wagner.

IT WAS VERY SWELL.
MRS. BRADLEY-MARTIN'S BALL
WAS A CORNER.

Pen Cannot Describe Not Artist Depict the Grandeur of the Occasion.

FANCY LOST IN AMAZEMENT.

PEOPLE CROSSED THE CONTINENT TO ENJOY IT.

Eight Hundred Guests Entertained in a Manner That Beggars Description—Everything Passed Off Smoothly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Beautiful beyond description was the ball masque of Mrs. Bradley-Martin tonight. Columns have been written about the affair and pictures drawn, but the fancy of the reporter and the artist did not picture scenes one-half as lovely as were presented in the Waldorf.

For weeks Mrs. Martin has worked in the preparation of the sumptuous affair. Her efforts were richly rewarded. The bitter criticisms hurled at her were forgotten and the hundreds who were present vied in making her the happiest woman in America.

The decorations throughout the Waldorf were exquisite. American Beauty roses, lilies and the rarest of imported blossoms, with their fragrant perfume, were intertwined in a marvellously beautiful scheme.

Never in New York has a greater floral display been made at a ball. Tiny electric lights and mirrors were used in a bewildering and artistic manner, all combining to transform the already beautiful hotel to an enchanting fairy house.

The arrangements for the ball were tested to their fullest but with excellent good fortune they were equal to every emergency. Thousands of men and women crowded the streets around the hotel, but the police kept them moving and no conflicts or excitement of any kind resulted. Detectives swarmed in and around the hotel to prevent trouble, but their presence was not needed.

The costumes were exquisite. All the great men and women of the past centuries were represented. Arrayed in raiment costly beyond the dream of the originals, were the men and women who appeared tonight as ladies and gentlemen of the olden periods.

At midnight the great ball was at its height. All society gathered to witness the regal splendor of past centuries. The great ballroom of the Waldorf, beautiful with a wealth of roses and fragrant flowers, was the scene of grandeur never before equalled in this country. Courtiers of old, from every clime, mingled with grand dames and ladies, kings and queens, princes and princesses, but here and there the old spirit of loyalty had manifested itself in the presence of colonial men and women of old and quaint ways in America.

Great social functions of the past in this city were eclipsed; even the memorable Vanderbilt ball of 1883, with which since then all other affairs have seemed to suffer in comparison. For lavish expenditure for artistic decorations and surroundings, for a reflection of the most picturesque episodes in Old World history and as a gathering of the fairest and richest in New World life the ball tonight marked an epoch. It was more than a mile post in New York's history; it was the event of a decade.

Months of preparation and the outlay of hundreds of thousands of dollars were exhausted in five hours. It was very fashionable. Men and women traveled across the continent for the honor of being present.

As many as fifty dinners preceded the affair. Every cotillion that makes up swiftness had a dinner. Those who were going to the ball appeared in their fancy gowns, that cost thousands of dollars, and which they will wear but once, and in their jewels. After the dinner their friends were invited in to admire, and after the friends the photographer, in order that the beauty and the gorgeousness of it all should not be lost in future generations.

Arrangements for receiving the guests as they arrived were nearly as perfect as could be. The guests alighted from their carriages at No. 13 West Thirty-third street, which is the private residence of Manager Bolat of the hotel, and went directly to the second floor of the hotel, where the apartments had been set aside as dressing-rooms. The guests were received by Mrs. Bradley-Martin in the small ballroom.

The scheme of decorations in this room was that of the time of Louis XV. and before the guests entered the counterfeit presentations of all the prominent people of that time, to mingle in the confusion in scenes of other days. After being received by the hostess, who stood upon a raised dais under a canopy of rare tapestry, the guests passed through a flower-lined corridor directly into the large ballroom. In the early portion of the evening dancing in the main ballroom on the first floor was general, but it was not until all the guests had paid their respects to Mrs. Bradley-Martin and she had been escorted to the ballroom proper that the fancy dress ball was formally opened.

In the small ballroom were members of the Twenty-second Regiment Band and the Hungarian Band. The music suddenly stopped, for just a moment, to be broken by a flourish of trumpets as Mrs. Bradley-Martin and her escort, John Jacob Astor, entered the room. A moment later they had taken their places at the head of the room, and there was another flourish of trumpets which told that the quadrille d'honneur, arranged by the William Astor, was about to open. The forming for the first figure, "The Salute," was like the turning of pages of history. The characters gathered from all sections of the room. There was Mrs. Bradley-Martin wearing a Marie Stuart costume, copied from an old plate of that Queen's time; Mrs. John Jacob Astor in a Louis XVI court costume; Townsend Martin as a cavalier of the court of Louis XVII; and Mrs. Henry Loeb in Louis XIV court costume.

that went to make up the historically represented personages of the ball, the whole background of the natural flowers, the lights and the ferns.

The second quadrille, which had been organized by Mrs. F. L. Baylies, was danced by Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Henry Sloane, Miss Edith Morton, Miss Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Alfonso de Navarro, H. D. Robbins and Worthington Whitehouse.

The cotillon, which was led by Mrs. Eliza Dyer, Jr., was the event which had been looked forward to by the younger guests, and there were nearly two hundred couples in it. Mr. Dyer appeared as Francisco I. in a rich costume consisting of a cloak of royal purple, velvet lined, with violet satin and embroidered with gold.

While there were light refreshments served throughout the evening, it was not until after 1 o'clock, at the conclusion of Mrs. Bronson's quadrille, that the regular supper began. This was served at small tables in the winter garden, but this place would have never been recognized by those familiar with it. More than one hundred tables had all passed through the hands of the forist, and were so hidden by his art that they lost all resemblance to bits of furniture.

American Beauty roses and white lilies were banked so high that the guests seemed to eat from the top of a flower bed. Beyond the tables and between the guests, so as almost to hide them from each other, were decorations of spring flowers—tulips, lilacs and rare blossoms—to make the place a lower of spring and fragrance.

The costumes of the eight hundred or more guests were exquisite in the extreme, and made a picture of rare beauty.

After the supper, the guests were entertained by a series of dances, and the ball continued until 4 o'clock, when the guests were escorted to their carriages.

COMBATIVE COUSINS.
COMPLICATED CASE OF FOOK TIA AND YUEN WO.

Fook Elected with a High-priced Wife, and Took Two Shots at the Agent of the Lady's Husband.

Two Chinamen reported at the police station last evening that Fook Tia, the little Chinaman who is charged with firing two shots at Yuen Wo early in November, had returned to the city.

Fook Tia drew a revolver one afternoon on Apabasia street and shot twice at his cousin at close range. According to the first rule of Chinese marksmanship, he missed his man, although he was near enough to fill Yuen Wo's face with powder, which was picked out at the Receiving Hospital.

Fook Tia left the city immediately and was not heard of until last night. He was arrested on an old warrant about 9 o'clock last night by Officers McGraw and Williams at Ah Fong's store on Marchessault street, and was locked up in the City Jail.

Some of Fook Tia's friends wanted to furnish bail for him at once, but finally decided to wait until his appearance in court today. One of them had an ingenious idea to tell about the assault. He said the two Chinamen were cousins. Fook Tia was industrious and saving in his habits, while Yuen Wo was lazy and had a large family to support.

As a result, the old fellow made a regular practice of bleeding his thrifty relation, and had gone so far on one occasion as to strike Yuen Wo several times in the face with his fist, when further entreaties were refused. In order to frighten Yuen Wo, it is explained, Fook Tia shot at him with his revolver.

AN OLD MAN'S VIGOR.
It is liable to decline in some respects, but can be replaced by Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt.

Men between the ages of 40 and 60 frequently find themselves lacking in the most essential element of manly power. Excesses in early life bring their train of evils, and sometimes all power is lost in the vital functions while other parts of the body are still vigorous. In such cases Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is valuable. Electricity coursing from the nerve centers through the body and saturating the weakened parts brings back the old vigor. It makes and old man forget his advancing years and arouses all the dormant spirits of manly strength that have been slumbering in him.

From an Old Man of 72.

GREEN MEADOWS, Los Angeles Co., Cal., Feb. 10, 1897.
Dr. A. T. Sanden: Dear Sir—After having a good deal of experience with drugs and cheap electric belts I have at last been cured by your grand appliance. I bought it for impotency, and though I am 72 years old it has had an amazingly good effect that way. I had also been a sufferer ever since I was in the Mexican war from a pain in my back, cold feet, and a poor general circulation. I now feel warm as toast; my feet are warm all the time, and I have not had the pain in my back since I got the Belt. My general health is much improved, and I feel good. My wife is nearly cured of her rheumatism by it, and we are proud of our Sanden Belt, I can tell you. I will be glad to vouch for it to anybody.

Yours truly, JOHN FAIR.

Green Meadows, Los Angeles Co., Cal.

It Is An Invigorator.

For young men, middle-aged men, as well as old men, the life-giving power generated by this wonderful Belt is the grandest of all benefits. To feel the life blood flowing through your veins once more, to know that years have not brought declining power, to know that the hands on the dial of life have been turned back a score of years! What a precious thought. Man, if you could appreciate but the half that this famous Belt has done no man would longer endure the lack of the power of manhood. Read Dr. Sanden's book, "Three Classes of Men." It is worth $100 to any weak man. Sent, sealed, free by mail. Or better, call and consult Dr. Sanden.

BRIBERY CHARGED.

JUSTICE PATTERSON OF SAN PEDRO UNDER ARREST.

Attorneys Allege That He Took a Bribe in Cold Cash to Decide a Criminal Case.

PATTERSON DENIES THE STORY.

W. H. SAVAGE MADE A PUBLIC AC-CUSATION ON THE STREET.

Peter M. Baum is the Man Who Says He Saw Poggi Hand the Coin to the Judge and Heard the Bargain Made.

Yesterday morning W. H. Savage, an attorney in San Pedro, and A. M. Patterson, a justice of the peace in that town, met on the street and said some bitter things, one against the other. Savage accused Patterson of having received $150 to dismiss a case against Rafael Poggi, charged by A. W. Sepulveda with assault with intent to commit murder. Patterson, without deigning to reply, turned and walked away. W. H. Savage afterward said he based his accusation on a statement made to him by Peter M. Baum, an attorney who has lived for a short time in San Pedro.

P. M. Baum, when seen by a Times man, said: "W. H. Savage and myself were employed as attorneys for the defendant Poggi. While the case was pending, about January 18, Justice Patterson came to me and said he did not like Savage and wanted him (Savage) not to be in the case. Patterson told me that if I did not have Savage discharged from the case he (Patterson) would hold Poggi to answer before the Superior Court."

At the suggestion of Patterson, I asked Poggi to discharge Savage from the case, and told Poggi my reason for it. Poggi then discharged Savage from the case. After the examination and while the case was pending before Justice Patterson I was in a room in the rear of a place on Front street with Poggi and Patterson. Poggi in my presence paid Patterson $150, saying he (Poggi) paid it for the purpose of getting him (Patterson) to dismiss the case. Patterson accepted the money after hearing Poggi say the money was for that purpose."

Justice Patterson, when seen by a Times man and informed of the statements that had been made regarding him, said:

"I did not ask Baum to have Savage discharged, as attorney in the case. Baum said in open court that Savage had not acted in a gentlemanly manner toward the court, and said he would retire from the case. Assistant District Attorney Williams and Mr. Sexton, the stenographer, were present at the time. The statement that I received $150 from Poggi to dismiss the case is absolutely untrue. I did not meet Poggi so as to speak with him from the time he was placed under arrest while in bed until now. The same complaint can be sworn to before another justice, and the proceedings may thereby be reopened at any time. The reason I did not reply to Savage this morning when he, on the street, accused me of receiving $150 to dismiss the case, was that I would not take his word for anything, be he drunk or sober, but in this case he was drinking."

Last night Justice Patterson was arrested upon a charge of bribery. W. H. Savage swore to the complaint charging that between January 15 and February 8, 1897, Patterson accepted a bribe of $150 to decide in favor of the defendant in the case of the people against Poggi, charged with assault to commit murder.

There have been rumors on the streets of San Pedro for several days that such action would be taken, but the denouncement was a shock to the citizens, who have not heard that the rumors were true. Justice Patterson was taken before Judge Downing, and released on bonds.

JUSTICE MOVES FAST.

Vincent Sentenced Within an Hour After His Arrest.

William Vincent, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Redfern on complaint of T. L. Teitz, was sentenced an hour later by Justice Rossiter to serve five days in the City Jail. Vincent walked into H. J. A. Stubb's liquor house on West First street and asked for a drink. While the bartender's back was turned he took a bottle of vermouth from the shelf, shoved it into his overcoat pocket, and started to walk away. Teitz detected the theft and held Vincent until a police officer took him in charge.

In court Vincent professed that he intended to pay for the bottle of liquor, but when he was searched he had no money on his person. His whole conduct while on trial suggested that he was more than eccentric.

PLAYS INSANITY.

Johnson, the Alleged Burglar, Will Conduct His Own Defense.

H. B. Johnson, who is charged with entering the room of Miss Allott, No. 124 South Main street, and stealing a number of valuable toilet articles and some jewelry, was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice Owens. His preliminary examination was set for this afternoon.

Johnson is the man who tore up some of his clothing a few days ago and later set them on fire. Yesterday he was dressed in some odd garments which he had picked up about the city jail. He stated in court that he was quite capable of conducting his own defense, and his general demeanor appeared to be shrewdly assumed with the purpose of creating the belief that he was not in his right mind.

Taken Under Consideration.

John Johnson, a negro, who was arrested on complaint of Lillie Walters for disturbance of the peace on Alameda street several days ago, was given a trial yesterday before Justice Owens. After hearing the evidence, which was to the effect that there had been an unpleasant interchange of abusive profanity between the man and woman, Justice Owens took the case under consideration.

HOME PRODUCTS PAIZES.

Awarded to the Soap Company, Bishop & Co. and F. W. Braun & Co.

The exhibitors at the Home Product Exhibition have been anxiously awaiting the report of the committee appointed to count the ballots cast by the ticket-holders for the best exhibit. The committee consisted of P. M. Daniel, R. W. Burnham and George H. Wigmore, and their duties have been very laborious, as six big boxes of votes had to be counted and tabulated. The Executive Committee some time ago offered three prizes of $100, $75 and $50, respectively, for the best decorated booths according to the popular vote. Yesterday, the committee finished its labors and as a result reported the following:

Los Angeles Soap Co. received the highest number, namely, 1304 votes; Bishop & Co., 619 votes; F. W. Braun & Co., 544 votes. There were in all fifty other exhibits voted for, and the number of votes so cast varied from twenty-five to 370 votes, for each, the Foster Preserving Co. obtaining the latter.

The booth of the Los Angeles Soap Co. will be remembered by all visitors to the exhibition as the most attractive in regard to the originality of design as well as artistic construction. It represented a mermaid queen's palace, for which over six thousand pounds of soap were used. In the center of the booth was a temple and throne, upon which posed a small model of a mermaid. The entire design was originated by Samuel L. Boeckel, the foreman of the company.

WORK FOR THE POOR.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL AID THE UNEMPLOYED.

Resolutions on Bills Now Pending Before the Legislature—Opposes Reduction of Street-car Fares. Letter Postage—Late Donations.

Owing to the subjects under discussion at the regular meeting yesterday of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, the session was one of unusual interest.

President Silver of the Council, Mrs. D. G. Stephens and Mrs. J. S. Slauson were given an audience by the board in the matter of the unemployed men in the city whose families were in actual want, and who would be glad of anything to do at almost any living rate of wages. A plan had been suggested whereby work could be found for some of them in the business men of the city could be induced to lend a hand. President Silver, on the request of the board, explained the plan, which was that money should be subscribed to provide work on the streets at a low rate of wages, to give employment to those who were actually in need. He urged that speedy action be taken, and the board decided to appoint a committee to confer as soon as possible with committees from the other commercial bodies and see what could be done.

The Committee on Law and Legislation tendered the following resolution which was passed by unanimous vote: "Whereas, a bill is now pending before the Legislature of the State of California for the purpose of reducing street-car fares in the city of San Francisco from 5 to 2½ cents; and whereas, if said bill should become a law it would impair the financial standing of all street-car companies doing business in California and thus throw many people out of employment and materially reduce the wages of others; therefore, be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Los Angeles, Cal., that the Senate Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads promptly report said bill with a favorable recommendation that it become a law; also that the Senators from California be requested to give said bill their hearty support."

The same committee also tendered the following resolution, which was passed by unanimous vote: "Whereas, the so-called Loud Bill (House Bill 4565), now pending before Congress, has passed the House of Representatives and is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads; and whereas, the said bill has been recommended by the Postmaster-General on the ground that it will cut off abuses now existing relative to the carriage of second-class mail matter, and will hasten the coming of 1-cent letter postage; therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Los Angeles, Cal., that the Senate Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads promptly report said bill with a favorable recommendation that it become a law; also that the Senators from California be requested to give said bill their hearty support."

The Committee on Ways and Means reported on several requests that had been received for assistance to projects of advertising this section that to the policy of the chamber to assist in individual enterprises and that the funds of the chamber were not in condition to admit of exception to this.

One remarkable donation sent in yesterday is from Charles H. Richardson of Pasadena. Mr. Richardson exhibits thirty-four separate and distinct varieties of oranges, taken from an orchard of ten acres. Four of these are unnamed varieties of Florida oranges, and the other thirty are Washington, Australian and Pasadena navel, Portugal, Queen Acapulco, Konak, Polyneia, Lake Vineyard, Mediterranean Sweet, Homestead, small St. Michael, Tangarine, China Mandarin, Sateurama, Oonshui, Malta blood, Hart's Tardiff, Old Vina, Pernambuco, Peerless, Nicaragua, Rio Valencia late, Magnolia Bonum, Pineapple, Australian, Wolfkill Favorite, Dancy Tangarine and Workman.

W. R. Ingham of Highland displays the most perfect cluster of oranges ever placed on exhibition. They are pale, smooth-skinned St. Michaels, perfect in shape and size, fourteen on the stem, which also shows a heavy growth of the glossy, dark-green leaves. The oranges are most symmetrically grouped, and the whole cluster might be the careful design of an artist skilled in making the best effects in still life.

Whittier State School contributes a box of oranges and grape fruit. Ballou & Cosgrove of San Diego send in an exhibit of baking powder and spices. Jessie M. Washburn of this city displays a painting of California peaches. C. Sturgess of Boyle Heights has sent in some superb callas, the flowers measuring six by nine inches, on stems five feet long.

The trial of M. M. Chase, the pension attorney, came up yesterday, but owing to the absence of a witness it was again continued until March 9.

Admitted to Practice.

C. B. Ladd, Esq., was yesterday admitted by Judge Wellborn to practice in the United States District Court.

JUST... TEN

We have over fifty different styles of Suits and Overcoats that we are going to sell at just Ten Dollars each. We thought a month ago they were cheap at $5.00 more; you can see the samples in our large window, not a mean style or a false fashion in the lot. We do not paint up our windows; we have no excuse to offer, there has been no fire, we are not going to move any shelving, we simply bought a few too many of these suits and mark them to a lower price to rectify the mistake.

A REMINISCENCE.

First Defense of Emotional Insanity Introduced in the West.

The Barthelman trial, which has recently been concluded, and in which a plea of emotional insanity was set up, brings to mind the first murder trial west of Chicago, in which a defense of emotional insanity was set up. The case was tried before Judge Winslow, who has since gained some prominence as a jurist, and occurred in Iowa in 1878.

This trial was but two years after the celebrated case was tried in Chicago before Judge McAllister, since Judge of the Supreme Court of Illinois, in which the murderer of School-teacher Hanford was acquitted on the same plea. The Hanford case stands out prominently in the list of murder trials during the last century, and probably but few cases in the annals of criminal jurisprudence have created a more profound impression at the time of their occurrence.

The case first referred to was known as the "White" murder case, and is today considered one of the greatest trials of that character ever tried in the State of Iowa. Caroline White was the beautiful seventeen-year-old sister of Fred White, afterward United States Congressman from his district, and she lived on a farm near the town of Webster, in Keokuk county. One day, at noon, when the harvest hands were gathered together preparing for their midday meal, Caroline White shot a man dead because he had defamed and slandered her. There were twelve witnesses to the shooting, and it looked as though nothing but a clear case of murder could be made from it.

The girl was held to answer, and afterward indicted by the grand jury for murder in the first degree. Dist. Atty. Donnell, then known as Maj. John A. Donnell, was asked to defend her. There was practically no defense, as the testimony of so many eyewitnesses to the occurrence was overwhelming. Maj. Donnell prepared his case carefully, and when the day of the trial came, he announced to the court before the crowded courtroom that a plea of emotional insanity would be entered as a defense. As this was the first case ever tried along those lines in Iowa, the court was agog.

When Maj. Donnell, in his address in presenting the case, referred to the decision of Judge McAllister in the Hanford trial, Judge Winslow restrained himself no longer, but burst out with "Sir! I am surprised that any respectable lawyer would mention the name of McAllister in a court of justice!" But even against these odds, the case was won, and the defendant acquitted.

The whole life history of the girl was brought out by the testimony. It was made evident that her whole manner of life was changed when she heard of the slanderous sayings and vituperative remarks the man she had shot had passed upon her. She was shown to have been always bright, cheerful and happy up to that time and from that time on she became morose and morose, and was frequently found by her mother in her own room with the blinds drawn, crying and sobbing bitterly.

The law in Iowa is that non-expert witnesses concerning the sanity of a defendant must detail each and every fact on which they base their opinion in the matter, before giving that opinion. Each witness was subjected to a most rigid examination, and every action of the girl on trial for her life was detailed in particular. Then, forming a hypothesis from the testimony, Dr. Raney, the superintendent of the State Insane Asylum at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and other expert witnesses, were asked whether or not, basing their opinion on the hypothesis, the defendant was sane or insane. Their answers were all the same, that the girl was not morally responsible for her actions.

The jury finally acquitted her, and thus ended one of the fore-runners of the line of defense which has saved so many men and women from the gallows' knot when all other avenues of escape were closed to them.

VERY SMOOTH WORK.

YOUNG POPE'S SECOND CONVICTION HERE.

Followed the Same Industry in San Francisco, but Escaped from Jail by the Aid of a Young Lady, Who is Said to Figure Here.

F. H. Pope, who is credited with being one of the smoothest shoplifters on the Coast, was on trial again yesterday in Justice Owens's court on a third charge.

Some weeks ago Pope was arrested by the detectives for stealing a box of stocks and dies from the Harper & Reynolds Company. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Justice Morrison to serve five months in the City Jail.

Tuesday he had a jury trial before Justice Owens on a similar charge, but was acquitted, presumably, because of the difficulty of the complaining witness in identifying the particular box of hardware produced in court.

The third case was heard yesterday afternoon in Justice Owens's court, and the jury brought in a verdict against Pope. He will be sentenced Friday afternoon.

Pope is a good-looking young fellow, with blue-gray eyes and fresh rose cheeks and he bears himself with a different manner that might go far to divert suspicion. His dress is up-to-date, in every detail, and he appeared yesterday, he would have been taken for a clerk on a good salary.

Detectives Hawley and Aule early in December found that Pope and a pal, named Fletcher, who managed to escape arrest, were systematically lifting the hardware stores. In operating one of their tricks of the trade, they boxed about two feet long wrapped always in paper. While the companion engaged the attention of the clerk in the store, the man with the box would quietly purloin some article and conceal it in his package.

Pope explains that he and Fletcher never stole anything, but Fletcher gave him the hardware to dispose of, and it appears from his own statements that he was not particularly interested where the property came from.

Pope is known to have a San Francisco record. In fact, less than a year ago, he was serving out two sentences of six months each on convictions had for the practice of the same industry while he had so lately pursued here.

After winning the confidence of the San Francisco jailer, he was made a trusty. One day a young lady brought a package within a short distance of the jail, and Pope disappeared.

From San Francisco he went to Fresno, and from there here, and he is held responsible by the city detectives for some very clever work in the way of lifting small articles of hardware.

One of the persons who has been in regular attendance upon all the trials in which Pope had figured here, is an attractive young lady. She is said to be a piano soloist by the name of Stevens, who conspired to deliver him, from jail in San Francisco. It was noticeable here that, what time the judge and jury did not hold Pope's attention, he was in close communication with his fair friend.

MUSICAL MENTION.

Miss Neely Stevens, the well-known pianiste, will give a farewell recital next Monday evening at St. Joseph's Hall, corner of Santee and Pico streets. The programme will be exceptionally interesting, and that it is to be devoted to piano solo by Miss Stevens assures an evening of rare enjoyment for music lovers.

Mrs. Edwin and Messrs. C. S. Cornell and Miss Clark have tendered their services for a concert for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten Association, next Monday evening at Masonic Hall on South Hill street.

Will Pull Through.

H. L. Blanchard, the young printer who was run over by the cars at Burbank a later had his leg amputated at the Receiving Hospital by Dr. Hagan, was moved to the Sisters' Hospital yesterday morning. Blanchard's prospects of recovery are now very good, although for a few days he was in a precarious condition.

That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," without life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious illness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is therefore apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Suspicious Wounds.

Jack Platt appeared at the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning with two knife cuts in his right cheek. There was every reason to believe that he had been in a fray, but Platt refused to talk and said he would attend to the matter himself without any assistance from the police. After having his wounds dressed, Platt went home.
